RENATA CEHAJIC

Junior Full Stack JavaScript Developer

Former IT Consultant and Business Analyst

I am a strong-willed self-starter and dedicated to continuous learning and personal growth. My driving force is the delivery of tangible results and generating impact. I like thinking inside the code and come up with creative solutions. I am also a strong team player, problem-solver and hard worker. I have extensive experience in complex national and international environments. Previous to Software Development, I have worked for numerous companies with different projects involving project management, business analysis, and sales operations.

Junior Full Stack JavaScript Developer 2020 – Present

Created multiple web applications from concept through to deployment. Built single page sites and apps with a back-end with standardized mobile-first and fully responsive design layout. Some examples:
